

"Restoring Discipleship Foundations to the Body of Christ to Impact the World"

KGM Watchmen Prayer Network/Spiritual Parenting

"From the Watchman Prayer calls and various Bible studies, to forming relationships with so many of the members, KGM has been one of the most significant blessings of these last few years. There are no words how thankful I am to the Lord for bringing me a family of such mighty, precious and beautiful women of God who point us younger ones into the depth of faith and the truths and reality of His Word. They have poured out so much love and wisdom, and it has strengthened me many times to remain steadfast in this walk of faith, and to keep my eyes on Jesus. During the prayer calls, I am often in awe of how transparent they are about their struggles, but then directly ask for prayer or take Scripture and declare it. In doing so, they have served as mentors and spiritual moms in my life, knowingly and unknowingly. When Miss Karen and so many others prayed and sowed into my two missions trip this year, I often cried out of being so surprised at their love and care. When Ms. Deborah opened her home to me in California, I felt like a daughter for the first time in a long time and it forged a relationship that will never end. When Ms. Yvette made time to meet for lunch in California, and Ms. Yolie insist that we go for a drive around LA, I could see how their love is pure and unshakable. I could go on and on, but KGM has played a huge role in my life, not just through the teachings, but through how these women live out their lives. This generation is lacking spiritual mothers and parents, and women have exemplified what it means to be one. What a privilege it is to be a part of this group, and I hope to be spiritual mentors like them in each stage of my life."

Christine Butcher, Bronx, NY